OAK BROOK, Ill. (Sept. 24, 2010) — A special address by President Bill Clinton will be one of the many highlights during the Radiological Society of North America's (RSNA) 2010 Annual Meeting and Scientific Assembly.

As a powerful voice for progress around the world, President Clinton will address the RSNA audience of scientists and medical professionals who are engaged in shaping the practice of radiology across the globe.

President Clinton's address is a plenary session at RSNA 2010 and will be held in the Arie Crown Theater at McCormick Place on Tuesday, November 30, at 1:30 p.m. The session is open only to professional attendees by ticket.

Other badged RSNA 2010 attendees, including technical exhibitors, may see the address as guests in simulcast rooms in McCormick Place. While members of the press cannot attend the address in the Arie Crown Theater or the simulcast rooms, a report of the event will be published on Wednesday, December 1, in the RSNA Daily Bulletin. Technical exhibitors from media companies (with exhibitor badges) who wish to attend are required to attend in the simulcast rooms as guests only, not as media to cover the event. As for all annual meeting presentations, no photography or video/audio recording will be permitted.
